

STANLEY PARK

A young chef who revels in local bounty, a long-ago murder that remains unsolved, the homeless of Stanley Park, a smooth-talking businessman named Dante — these are the ingredients of Timothy Taylor's stunning debut novel — Kitchen Confidential meets The Edible Woman. Trained in France, Jeremy Papier, the young Vancouver chef, is becoming known for his unpretentious dishes that highlight fresh, local ingredients. His restaurant, The Monkey's Paw Bistro, while struggling financially, is attracting...

Peek Inside the Book

Natural for you, perfectly natural, the Professor whispered. Natural to refuse the key that is given. To be blind in the darkness of knowing. To be filled with a dark light that we must shine on...

Reader's Opinions

Not my genre - got 3/4 of the way through before I realized it. Probably good at the end but didn't really catch me

Stanley Park by Timothy Taylor centres on a Vancouver born, French trained chef Jeremy Papier as he strives to stick to his culinary principals whilst his restaurant plummets into economic crisis. He has been running...
