Peek Inside the Book

The Last Words of My English Grandmother
There were some dirty plates and a glass of milk beside her on a small table
near the rank, disheveled bed-- Wrinkled and nearly blind she lay and snored
rousing with anger
in her tone
to cry for food, Gimme something to eat-- They're starving me--
I'm all right--
I won't go to the hospital. No, no, no Give me something to eat!
Let me take you to the hospital, I said
and after you are well
you can do as you please.
She smiled, Yes
you do...

Reader's Opinions

William Carlos Williams frustrates me. I just don't get him, and that makes me mad. He writes stuff like this: "so much depends upon a red wheelbarrow glazed with rainwater beside the white chickens" and I don't know what the...

best book of poetry. not even close. WCW destroys me.
