

THE GANGSTER WE ARE ALL LOOKING FOR

A momentous literary debut: the life of a Vietnamese family in America luminously observed through the knowing eyes of a child. In 1978 six refugees—a girl, her father, and four “uncles”—are pulled from the sea to begin a new life in San Diego. In the child’s imagination, the world of itchy dresses and run-down apartments is transmuted into an unearthly realm: she sees everything intensely, hears the distress calls of inanimate objects and waits for her mother to join her. But life loses none of its strangeness...

Peek Inside the Book

I don't know how time moves or which of our sorrows or our desires it is able to wash away. L Thi Diem Thy, The Gangster We Are All Looking For //

In the fall of the year I turned sixteen, I jumped out of my bedroom window and ran away. The nights black roads wound like long stretches of river. The streets ribboned out in all directions. I lifted first one foot and then...

Reader's Opinions

The Gangster We Are All Looking For is the 2011 choice for One Book, One San Diego; which is a partnership between our local NPR station (KPBS) and the San Diego Public Library. Every year a committee chooses several candidate books and KPBS encourages listeners to go online and vote for their choice in a poll. The winner is promoted...
